NOTICE TO CONTRIBUTORS

(Revised January 2007)

SCOPE AND MISSION

Sociology of Religion, the official journal of the Association for the Sociology of Religion (ASR), is published quarterly for the purpose of advancing scholarship in the sociological study of religion. The journal seeks to publish original (not previously published) work of exceptional quality and interest without regard to substantive focus, theoretical orientation, or methodological approach.

MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

To have a manuscript considered by Sociology of Religion, do exactly the following:

Manuscript. Submit three (3) hard copies and an electronic version of the manuscript. The electronic version can either be e-mailed to the editorial office (preferred) or included on a compact disc and mailed with the hard copies. The electronic document must be in a Microsoft Word compatible format. The abstract, text, references, tables, and figures must all be in a single file.

Submission Checklist. A completed submission checklist, available online or from the editorial office (sored@wfu.edu), must accompany all submissions.

Electronic Mail Address. Your submission must include an electronic mail address for correspondence with the editorial office. Receipt of your submission will be confirmed at the e-mail address you provide.

Address. Address manuscripts to David Yamane, Editor, Sociology of Religion, Department of Sociology, Wake Forest University, 1834 Wake Forest Road, Box 7808, Winston-Salem, NC 27106.

Processing Fee. There is a fee of $25 to process the manuscripts of nonmembers of the ASR, payable to the "Association for the Sociology of Religion" in U.S. funds drawn on U.S. banks or by international postal money order. Nonmembers may join the Association at the time of submission and have this fee waived. Annual dues are $35 for constituent members and $15 for full-time students and low income (under $10,000) members, and include a subscription to Sociology of Religion. For membership information, contact the ASR Executive Office, 618 SW 2nd Avenue, Galva, IL 61434-1912, bill4329@hotmail.com or visit the ASR web site at www.sociologyofreligion.com.

Ethics. The ASR supports the Code of Ethics of the American Sociological Association (ASA) and other professional associations in the social sciences with respect to multiple submissions of manuscripts to academic journals. In cases where a manuscript has been determined to have been submitted to Sociology of Religion when it is also under consideration by another journal or vice-versa, that manuscript will be rejected from further consideration by this journal. Persons unfamiliar with the ASA's Code of Ethics may obtain a copy on the ASA web site (www.asanet.org) or by writing the ASA at 1307 New York Avenue, NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC 20005-4701.

Copyright. Copyright to articles published in Sociology of Religion is held by the ASR.

Manuscript Preparation. Prepare the manuscript exactly according to the "Manuscript Preparation Guidelines" available on the journal's website or in the first issue of each volume of the journal.

NOTE: The editor reserves the right to return manuscripts that do not follow these guidelines for manuscript preparation and submission.
